ECSC Group Shares Rise As it Launches KEPLER Cyber Security AI Product

LONDON (Alliance News) - Shares rose in ECSC Group PLC on Monday as it launched the KEPLER Cyber Security Artificial Intelligence product at the Infosecurity Europe Show in Olympia, London.

Shares in the cyber security services provider rose 13% at 119.00 pence on Tuesday.

The KEPLER AI is intended to be the core of ECSC's latest 24/7/365 security monitoring and breach detection services.

"The use of artificial intelligence in cyber security doesn't replace the need for expertise; rather, it gives our experts actionable information. This helps identify cyber security breaches at the earliest stage, and gives our clients the opportunity to contain and repel attacks before costly data breaches occur," said Chief Technology Officer Ian Mann.
